

LEADING FREE CONFERENCE CALL PROVIDER NOW OFFERS

FREE CONFERENCE TOOLBARS

Conference Scheduling and Management made Stress Free by FreeNet!

New York, 25th January 2011 -Multi-tasking in conferencing has reached an entirely new level as FreeNet, a leading free conference call service provider, announces its new Outlook and multi-browser Conference Toolbar plug-ins! This resourceful and consumer-friendly Conference Management System, released today by the free conferencing leader, allows users to schedule, organize, track, and control their conference calls directly from Microsoft Outlook or from Internet browsers such as Internet Explorer or Firefox Mozilla.

FreeNet's Conferencing Toolbar plug-in has innovative and useful features - there are no other comparable toolbars in the marketplace today! Users can log into their FreeNet Conferencing account directly from their Outlook or web browser toolbar and manage their conferences in real time from any location. Access information regarding conference schedules with a click of the mouse, all from within the familiar Outlook interface!

The Outlook Toolbar can be used to send conference call invitations directly to email addresses from your Contact List. These emails will automatically update the Outlook Calendar, and send reminders to all call participants so no one will forget about the scheduled conference call. Additionally, there is no need to memorize conference Dial-In numbers or Pass Codes because this secured information will be stored in each individual's Outlook Toolbar and Calendar.

During the conference call, the Toolbar will give Live Conference Control and Management capabilities to the moderator by providing a live dashboard view showing the number of callers on line and the number they are calling from. Conference with WHOM you want, WHEN you want, from WHERE you want. It's quick and easy! Visit www.Freenet.com for details, and conveniently improve your productivity and effectiveness!

FreeNet's Free Conferencing Packages and Outlook Toolbar plug-in help manage demanding schedules at zero cost - perfect for hard-working business men and women in any industry! FreeNet Conferencing's free package allows convergence of 100 people on a professional conferencing platform without any barriers.
